TORONTO WINS SENIOR HOCKEY IN EXTRA TIME

Blue and White Triumph In Thriller.

CROWD SURPRISED.

Heney and "Boo" Anderson Star For McGill—Score 7—6.

Before a large audience which filled the Arena Gardens, and which numbered over five thousand, the Varsity senior hockey team defeated McGill by a score of 7 to 6. Possibly never before has an Intercollegiate game been so hotly contested, as it took thirty minutes of overtime play to decide the winner.

Early in the game Varsity piled up a lead of three goals, but the Red and White soon settled down and evened up the score. On four occasions the count was tied, and the two teams alternated as leaders. McGill on three occasions played with two men short, and the manner in which the four Red and White players held down the entire Toronto sextette clearly showed that with the exception of the first period McGill had the better of the play. During the progress of the game the odds were two to one in favor of the Montreal aggregation.

Heney, the star McGill defence man, suffered a painful injury during the TABLES TURNED.

First Of Home and Home Games Between Two Colleges.

In the first water polo game of a home and home series between McGill and Varsity, the Red and White team thoroughly trounced the visitors, whitewashing them by the score of 7 to 0, on Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. tank.

This is the first regular water polo series ever organized in Canadian Intercollegiate circles, and a cup, emblematic of the championship in this line of sport, is being donated by H. E. Herschorn, past president of the McGill Swimming Club.

Although Varsity managed to win out in the Swimming Meet on the previous day, when it came to applying their knowledge of the art to the game of water polo, they proved woefully deficinet.

Throughout the match, McGill had by far the better of the play. The Blue and White were outclassed in all departments of the game, and at no time were they even dangerous.

The McGill team exhibited a decided superiority in individual work as well as in team play. Man for man, they were faster, while in combination and shooting ability they far surpassed the visitors.

The Red and White pressed the play at all stages, and as a consequence Varsity was held to a defensive game throughout. In fact, it was only on a

SKI CARNIVAL CAME TO AN END SATURDAY

Second Day Of Sports Was a Success.

DARTMOUTH WON.

Final Standing In Competitions Was Dartmouth 22, McGill 16, Ottawa 5.

The three final events of the McGill Ski Carnival were run off Saturday on the Campus and tt Cote des Neiges Jump.

In the Obstacle Race, Trainer of Dartmouth won first place; time 1.47 minutes. The course was a stiff one—starting at the corner of Sherbrooke and McTavish, the competitors had to clamber over the high board fence which separates the McGill grounds from McTavish Street; then, after crossing a path in the deep snow, they crawled over the boards onto the Campus rink, slid over the ice as gracefully as possible, topped the boards of the rink behind the Library, zig-zagged three times over another maze of parthways, crawled under a rope laid flush with the ground, to finish as best they could at the top of the steep slope in front of the Redpath Museum.

The twenty-five men competing in this race were lined up in five groups, which started at three-minute intervals, as follows:

Group. I.
Carlton—Dartmouth.
Candfield—Middlebury.
Bassow—Vermont.
Thompson—McGill.
Reid—McGill.

Group II.
Carpenter—Middlebury.
Ross—Middlebury.
Walker—Vermont.
Foss—McGill.
Glen—McGill.
Rutherford—McGill.

Group III.
Frederiken—Dartmouth.
Goldsmith—Vermont.
Owens—McGill.
Pope—McGill.
Thomas—Middlebury.

Group IV.
Trainer—Dartmouth.
Densmore—Dartmouth.
St. Cyr—Vermont.
Bashaw—McGill.
Anderson—McGill.

Group V.
Griffith—Dartmouth.
Macklaier—McGill.
Copland—McGill.
Roy—McGill.
Elliot—McGill.

The winners of the five groups: Trainer, Roy, Goldsmith, Thompson and Rutherford went over the course again for a decision, which resulted:

1st—Trainer, Dartmouth.
2nd—Roy, McGill.
3rd—Goldsmith—Vermont.

The Ski Relay was run off at 12.15 over the tracks on the Campus. The four teams entered were made up as follows:

Dartmouth—Fredericton, Densmore, Carlton, Bowler.

Middlebury—Canfield, Ross, Thomas, Carpenter.

Vermont—Goldsmith, Bassow, St. Cyr, Pores.

McGill—Clivens, Gordon, Glen, Pope.

McGill scored a comfortable lead, with Dartmouth second and Middlebury third. Vermont would undoubtedly have taken one of the first three places if their leader had not fallen near the start. McGill's time was 1.47 2-5 minutes.

The Intercollegiate Jumps were included in the Quebec Championships. In this competition were entered teams from all over Eastern Canada, including teams from the Ottawa Ski Club, the Cliffside Ski Club of Ottawa, the Montreal Ski Club, the M.A.A.A. and the Mount Royal Ski Club. The Intercollegiate teams were from McGill, Dartmouth and Vermont. A fairly large crowd witnessed the jumping which was not up to record. The Quebec Championship was won by McKinnon of the Montreal Ski Club, with a jump of 87 feet. Sundburg of Temiskaming came second, and Weiner of the Montreal Ski Club third. In the Intercollegiate, Carlton of Dartmouth was first, Sherrard of McGill second, and Bowler of Dartmouth third.

The totals of the five vents of the Carnival give Dartmouth the lead with 22 points. McGill takes second place with 16, Ottawa with 5 ranks third.

BASKETBALL GAME LOST TO TORONTO

Varsity Won Out On Free Shot.

CLOSE MATCH.

McGill Led Until Last Few Minutes Of Play.

The McGill Intercollegiate Basketball team were defeated after a very close game in Hart House by the Toronto University quintette. The play was fast and the checking close and hard. Apart from the first point not until the last few minutes of play did the Blue and White succeed in assuming the lead, and it was only due to their work in the second period that they emerged as winners. At the end of the first period the score was ten to seven in favor of the Red and White, but on the resumption of play the Varsity men found the baskets and scored several field baskets, tieing the score. McGill managed to edge ahead but Varsity tied the score on three occasions and finally on a free shot secured the point that put them in the lead and won the game.

Kern for McGill played an all round good game and scored a basket and nine free shots. Little and Hay each showed up well and were each responsible for three baskets. Coles and Bell starred for Varsity and were effective particularly in the second period.

McGILL WINS INTERMEDIATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat M.A.A.A. By Score Of 3—2.

POOR BEGINNING.

McGill Played Splendid Hockey In Last Period.

The McGill Intermediates won a remarkable victory on Saturday afternoon when they defeated the M.A.A.A. hockey team by the score of 3 to 2, thus gaining the championship of the League.

Playing ragged hockey in the first period, and improving in the second, the Intermediates fell automatically into their stride in the last twenty minutes, and showed a brilliant style of hockey that not only held the M.A.A.A. to no score, but enabled them to win the game by a narrow margin.

The game wass full of thrills from start to finish. Both teams were in first-class condition, and battled strenuously for the championship.

The Intermediates played like novices in the first period. They used scarcely any combination, and the M.A.A.A. out-classed them in stick-handling, speed and back-checking. M.A.A.A. scored once in the first part of the second. Then McGill came back, and came back with a rush. Kelly scored, then the whole team bucked up and played combination, back-checked and shot like a team of experienced veterans. From this moment till the end of the match, McGill out-classed their opponents in all departments of the game. The Intermediates deserve great praise for the way that they overcame their opponents' two goal lead and forged ahead to victory. The teams

"Music Hath Charms"

That music is one of the necessities of life it would be idle to deny. Whether your preference be for Mozart, Debussy, Sullivan or Irving Berlin is of secondary importance. Men have been known to find satisfaction in symphonies, chamber music, any one of the half dozen forms of opera, "close harmony" and even the fulgarant jazz. The harp of old, the dulcet flute, the trumpet, the one-stringed Oriental equivalent of the western world's Stradivarius, the North American banjo, the accordion of sunny taly and of late the erstwhile severely utilitarian cow-bell, all have stirred or solaced the soul according to its needs. There have been those who have been thrilled by the putative melody of the xylophone or the ocarina and many there be who in the lush and bounding springtime have made sweet pipings on a popular sapling. None of us but at some time or other has felt the call to give vent ti his musical feelings in some or other form.

This being the case it is somewhat surprising that our Orchestra does not receive better support. There must be many among the student body who are of sufficient musical ability to join but to date the response to repeated appeals has, to say the least, been disappointing. At the commencement of the season a fair amount of interest was displayd and on the strength of this interest a competent conductor was engaged. Since then there has been a steady falling off in attendance at practices with the result that a concert scheduled for the end of the month has had to be postponed indefinitely. In the past it was the custom of the Orchestra to give Sunday afternoon concerts which enjoyed the unqualified support of the whole student community. For a University of its size McGill is singularly lacking in undergraduate musical organizations and it s to be regretted that those which are now in existence find their courses so beset wtih difficulty. It is not our place to appeal but we would point out the dangers which may result from the negelect of one of the most important phases of our extra-curriculum activity and ask that those who should be most interested at least give the matter careful consideration before abandoning what is indubitably one of our worthiest undertakings.

At Last

A few weeks after the commencement of the session the Literary and Debating Society, by means of an interesting programme of interclass debates, attempted to place the society in its proper sphere among the more important student activities. Whether through a natural feeling of post-war restlessness or on account of a general lack of interest in this important branch of university lief the plans of the society did nit meet with the success they deserved.

At the time we gave all possible support to the executive in its meritorious work, and it is thus with a good deal of satisfaction that we view the present success of the Mock Parliament, which is the outcome of pre-Christmas efforts on the part of the executive and certain supporters of the Lit.

Recent meetings of the Mock Parliament have shown that a satisfactory number of students, more especially from the Faculties of Arts and Law, are taking a keen interest in the debates and workings of the miniature parliament in the hall of the Union. Except on special occasions, such as a contest with the Delta Sigma Society, the Lit, at its regular debates was usually forced to be content with a meagre attendance of thirty or forty. Under the present system of enveloping the debates with a coating of parliamentary procedure, however, a hundred, or a hundred and fifty, participants may be counted upon.

Neither persons or societies can be pickers and choosers, and although it is a pity that not more than a score or so could be adduced to attend the regular meetings of the Lit. the plan had to be, and was, abandoned for a more practicable and popular one. The revived Mock Parliament has come to stay, and the executive of the Lit. and its present supporters may feel assured that their original aim is being surely and effectively realized under the present system.

Correspondence

The Daily is not responsible for the sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office — that they write upon ONE side of the paper ONLY.

No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

To the Editor, McGill "Daily."
Dear Sir:—

It was with the greatest satisfaction that I read "U. F. of M.'s" letter in your issue of February 20th. In this correspondent a large and hitherto silent, though by no means unimportant, element of the population finds a voice and champion.

I hall not go into detail regarding the numsber and the injustice of the disabilities under which this element has so long labored. To do so, indeed, after the forcible and clear manner in which these were set forth by "U. F. of M." would be to "paint the lily and perfume the rose."

But I do, sir, extend to "U. F. of M." my heartiest and most incere congratulation, and sassure him, if he can possibly be in need of assurance on this point, that he is indeed the true "vox populi" and not, as the parties which he has so justly attacked have insinuated, a mere voice crying in the wilderness.

"U. F. of M." may rest assured of the staunchest support from every part of the large and downtrodden element whose rights he so fearlessly asserts, and if he should ever call upon that element to assist him in his efforts to free it from its bondage, he may be certain that it will rise as one man in answer to his clarion call.

It is true, sir, that the writer of that letter did not sign his own name thereto, but this does not indicate that he lacks the courage of his convictions. There are adequate reasons for caution at the present moment. If Dame Rumor speaks truth, a bomb may soon be exploded in Parliament which will rock that institution to its very foundations. When that time arrives "U. F. of M." to-day a mere "nom-de-plume" will then become a "nom-de-guerre" such as will strike terror into the very souls of those re-actionaries whose interest it is to oppose it.

I shall say no more now, sir. But before closing I wish again to congratulate this liberator who, by daring to apply the detonator of discussion to the dynamite of discontent, stands ready to blow the Progressive Party from the pinnacle of peculation and to blast the Constitutionalists from the rock of repression.

I am, sir,
Yours truly,
AGRICOLA.

To the Editor, McGill "Daily."
Dear Sir:—

Apart from the necessity of increasing the length of Engineering Courses, there is much of interest in the last paragraph of Mr. Timmerman's letter in Saturday's "Daily," wherein he mentions the time lost in taking notes in lectures. This waste of time should be stopped, quite apart from the question of lengthening courses. When that has been done the question of the addition of further subjects, by their inclusion in present courses or by the addition of an extra year ,may come up when the necessity arises.

The mention of some further examples may be of use.

In one subject in which I took full notes for three hours a week for a month I found that the prescribed textbook covered the subject in most respects more fully, gave information on necessary points that were omitted, and gave more inspiration in the grasping of the subject as a whole than did the lecturer's words. The book was better than the lectures: still better was it than any notes could be. In this case one hour a week could have been devoted by the lecturer to the explanation of points not covered by the lecturer to the explanation of points not covered b ythe book and the remaining two hours a week could have been abolished, less half an hour for the study in the book of the work formerly taken up in the lectures, a net saving of an hour and a half a week.

I have in mind three other subjects taking two hours a week each in which about the same ratios of time would hold, though more than one text-book per subject might be necessary.

In subjects which are almost entirely mathematical this would not hold, as there seems to be fewer satisfactory text-books available.

In studying for examination purposes, a student receives his impressions almost entirely through the eye, by the reading of notes or books, and not by trying to recall what he heard on some previous occasion. The value of the ear as a means of conveying impressions to the mind is slight after the lapse of any considerable period of time, and in this connection I would quote from a book by Felix Arnold, a psychologist, called "Attention and Interest" in which he states, when speaking of the result of teaching in an ordianry school course: "Remember that about half of the new matter presented is forgotten after the first half-hour, two-thirds in nine hours, three-quarters after six days and four-fifths after a month."

The lecturer will say that the student will not read the texts. But to prepare himself for an examination a student musa read something on the subject, and he might as well read a text-book as a more or less imperfect set of notes. It is rarely indeed that a student can pass an examination in a subject merely by reason of his careful attention at a series of lectures. He must read something, and he can substitute for the time spent in having his mind impressed through his ear a much shorter period of additional study of his books.

There aer of course exceptional lecturers, or exceptional or mathematical subjects which must be taught by average lecturers, but these circumstances are specifically excluded from consideration in this manner.

Might I suggest, in closing, that it might be of interest to get an expression of opinion from some of the members of the teaching staff, either by correspondence in your columns or by published interviews.

I am, sir, etc.,
M. M. M.

BASKFTBALL GAME LOST TO TORONTO

First Period.

Hay ran with the ball and Coles scored on a free shot, Varsity assuming the lead. Kern soon scored a free shot tieing the score. He missed a second, but a few minutes later was successful in putting McGill in the lead which place they held till the last few minutes of play with the exception of the three occasions on which Varsity managed to tie the score. After Kern had added another point Hay secured the first basket of the evening. Coles scored for the Blue and White making the count McGill 5 Varsity 2. Kern missed the basket and Hay duplicated his feat a few minutes previous. McGill were finding the baskets with much more precision than Varsity and seemed more at home on the floor than did the home team. After Bell had added one point to Varsity's list and Preston had scored a basket, Little put McGill two more points ahead. After a double foul Kern succeeded in winning his point and Varsity failed to do so. Bell closed the scoring for the first period by making a basket. During this stage of the game Kern was playing well on the defense and Hay was starring on the forward line.

Score—McGill, 10; Varsity, 7.

Second Period.

Coles made good on a free shot and Kern scored a basket. Coles duplicated and Hay added two more to the McGil count. Bell and Little each csored a basket making the score McGill 16 Varsity 11. Little was playing a good game and finding the basket nicely. Coles who in this period was shooting well scored a free shot. Kern got two free shots and scored one of them. Bell of Toronto got a basket making the score 17—14 in favor of the Red and White. Kern scored three free shots and Varsity three baskets in quick succession making the count twenty all. This rally of Varsity was spectacular and was the cause of them winning the game, as following it only odd points were scored by each side and not more than a point or two separated them during the remainder of the play. McGill again assumed the lead when Kern registered another free shot, but Varsity soon did likewise again putting both teams on an equal basis. Little tallied a basket and closed the scoring for the Red and White quintette. Bell of Varsity sagged the twine for two more points and Coles brought the game to an end by making another point on a free shot. During the second period Varsity showed their familiarity with the floor and remained in the running owin gto the three field baskets which they succeeded in scoring in quick succession.

The line-up:

McGill		Varsity
Kern	Defense	Logan
Montgomery	Defense	Graham
Perreault	Forward	Preston
Little	Forward	Coles
Hay	Centre	Bell
Foss	Sub	Kemp
Laishley	Sub	Holmes

The large audience were very enthusiactic during the entire encounter and broke wild when the final score was announced.

BILL FOR WOMEN LAWYERS.

Portias-in-prospect of the legal profession in the Province of Quebec are using the well-known fact that wamen law clerks and secretaries of men attorneys have really been the sole authors of many of the "opinions" to which a weighty name has been signed, as one of the arguments for the passage of a bill in the present Legislature to license women to practice law. When the proposition was brought up in a previous session, it was defeated by a small margin. Other provinces of the Dominion, of course, have statutes allowing women to appear before the bar. Nova Scotia recently had the experience of seeing the first feminine attorney in the courts. And what is more to the point, this pioneer "legal light" won the first case she argued. What with England within the last few weeks having four women eating in Middle Temple Hall for the first time in history, preparatory to practising law, Quebec women expect the qualification bill to be passed, though lively debate is anticipated.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS

CONSTITUTIONAL PARTY.

By direction of H.M. Government, the following two measures will be brought forward for final reading at the next session of this House, on Tuesday evening, the 2nd March, at 8.15 o'clock.

The Daylight Saving Act.

The Female Voters' Suffrage Act.

In view of recent and totally unfounded criticism directed against H.M. Government, I am authorized by the Right Honorable the Prime Minister to deny categorically the allegation that the legislation contemplated by H.M. Government and the legislation enacted during this Session is either frivolous or of a sectional character. H.M. Government feel that the proposed measures fill a long felt want and are of paramount and far-reaching importance. It ill becomes H.M. Loyal Opposition to speak of frivolity in view of the proclivities of certain of their supporters to indulge in frivolous and illegal pastimes, such as gambling, in the precincts of this House.

In respect of the first measure, H.M. Government feels that the growing sentiment of the country in favor of Daylight Saving should receive adequate expression. The only objection of importance that may be raised is that the farmers will be adversely affected. It is evident that this only applies to the shipping of perishable produce, which would necessitate earlier rising on the part of the shipper. Now most farm produce is handled by jobbers who do not buy from day to day, but warehouse their goods until a convenient season for their disposal. This leaves only market gardeners who drive in to market and farmers who supply milk. Eggs may be ruled out, as the quality of the present article shows.

Now the majority of markets open early, and farmers drive in and sleep by the wayside, so that it is merely a question of bivouacing a little nearer in. The supply of milk, on the other hand, is largely gathered the night before to permit of adequate cooling, and is loaded in the morning. By far the bulk of a city supply system is handled by corporations or limited companies with extensive dairies, who can easily make the necessary arrangements, so that the city worker can have fresh milk for his breakfast. In small centres the distances are shorter — local arrangements can be easily adjusted. It may be pointed out that an increasing amount of milk is processed before sale by pasteurization, which destroys the time argument.

In reference to Woman Suffrage, the Government feels that the high intellectual attainments of women in schools and colleges, their increasing economic independence, and above all the magnificent manner in which they enabled the war to be pushed to a victorious conclusion, proved that women were capable of the highest order of usefulness and patriotism, of organization and responsibility, of courage and endurance and of skill and industry. They have successfully demonstrated their ability to perform work hitherto performed by men alone and with an equal degree of efficiency, and H.M. Government believe that the time has arrived when women should equally with men take part in the government of this country.

Not only should they possess this right which they have won, but there is no valid reason for their exclusion from the council chamber, and it is the contention of H.M. Government that women should be eligible to hold public office.

H.M. Government present the foregoing arguments to their supporters, and trust that their electors will see that the Cabinet possess a point of view and a capacity for detail not limited to peanuts and certain unpleasant parasites. As to the question of "party politics," I am directed to point out that H.M. Government have never resorted to the policy of pledging members to vote irrespective of their opinions, and have at all times challenged free discussion and urged a division on opinions rather than on party affiliation. It is a moot question whether H.M. Loyal Opposition can truthfully say as much, to make no more serious allegations. Certainly their comments on the Honorable Member for Beauce Co., who ventured to differ with his colleagues, does not fit in very well with this asservation.

By direction of the Right Honorable the Prime Minister, the text of the proposed measures is here appended.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

H. WYATT JOHNSTON.

Secretary of State.

McGill,

21rt February, 1920.

An Act Respecting the System of Measurement of Time in the Dominion of Canada With a View to the Fuller utilization of the Hours of Daylight at Certain Seasons.

Short Title.

This Act may be cited as the Daylight Savings Act.

Interpretation.

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires: "Normal Time" shall signify the standard time at any point in the Dominion of Canada as defined by existing Acts.

"Summer Time" shall signify the standard time as defined under the provisions of this Act.

"Actual Time" shall signify the time at any spot as determined by astronomical considerations, and shall be further specified as "mean solar time" or mean sidereal time," as the case may require.

This clause of interpretation shall be deemed to be included in and to form part of this Act.

At two o'clock in the morning of the first day of March in each year the normal time shall be advanced one hour exactly, at which hour all instruments shall be advanced one hour exactly. The standard time as thus recorded shall be known as "Summer Time."

At two o'clock by summer time on the morning of the first day of October of each year normal time shall be regained by retarding summer time one hour exactly, at which hour all instruments for measuring time shall be retarded one hour exactly.

Provided always that:—

(1) During the aforesaid period from 2 a.m. on the 1st October in the same year summer time shall be the standard in all matters, and it shall be unlawful to cite any other system of time measurement in any dispute arising during that period within the Dominion of Canada.

(2) No action may be taken in respect of any alleged loss or injury arising out of the operation of this Act, neither may this Act be cited in extenuation of, or as an excuse for, any failure to execute a contract in any action resulting therefrom.

(3) Insofar as the advancement of knowledge and the art and science of navigation may require, this Act shall not be applicable, and for those purposes actual time may be used, either mean solar or mean sidereal or both. The following are entitled to claim the privileges defined under this section:—

(a) Ocean-going vessels (including vessels upon the Great Lakes), who shall have cleared from a recognized port and are outward bound.

(b) Observatories of a scientific or astronomical character.

(c) Surveyors.

Penalty.

For wilful obstruction to, or obstinate refusal to comply with, the provisions of this Act or other actions tending to promote confusion in the measurement of time to the detriment of the public, the offender shall be liable, on summary conviction, for each offence, to suffer a fine of $100 or imprisonment not to exceed 3 calendar months, or both, or to such less punishment as the competent authority may deem sufficient.

An Act to Enable Adult Females Who Are British Subjects to Exercise the Franchise and any Privileges Pertaining Thereto, and to Hold Pubic Office.

Short Title.

This Act may be cited as The Female Voters' Suffrage Act.

For the purpose of electing representatives to any legislative body in the Dominion of Canada, whether federal, provincial or municipal, whose members are elected by ballot, any female British subject, either natural born or naturalized, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and who shall either be in receipt of an annual income, from any legitimate source whatsoever, equal to or in excess of One Hundred and Twenty Dollars ($120.00) per annum, or who shall pay rates upon real property whose annual rental value exceeds or equals that sum, or whose rateable value would yield at six percentum per annum, if invested, the sum aforesaid annually, shall be competent and duly qualified to cast a ballot in any election as specified above, in the form prescribed for male electors by existing Acts, or as may be prescribed from time to time. Provided always that such female voter shall have resided regularly for a period of six continuous calendar months in that locality in which she shall be entitled to cast such ballot, or that she shall have resided in such locality for not less than nine consecutive calendar months during which she shall not have been absent for more than three calendar months altogether in the nine months immediately preceding such election.

And further, that any female qualified as above, who shall in addition be a natural born British subject shall be eligible to hold public office in any capaciay whatsoever and to exercise the powers and authority pertinent thereto equally as though a male subject had been selected, and subject to such qualifications as regards age and residence as are prescribed by existing Acts or may from time to time be prescribed.

Provided always that:—

(1) Nothing in this Act shall be interpreted to disqualify any female from any privileges conferred upon her in virtue of this Act by reason of her being married, nor shall such privileges be subject to the control of her husband, any existing Acts to the contrary notwithstanding. Save only in the case of a marriage contracted with an alien, in virtue of which, her nationality becoming that of her husband, she shall cease to be deemed an elector qualified as above.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall operate to curtail any existing privileges which a female subject may at present enjoy under existing enactments.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall entitle any female voter qualified as above to cast more than one ballot for any one candidate in any election, nor to cast a ballot in more than one constituency within the time prescribed for residence as aforesaid.

(4) Incarceration in a common gaol or penitentiary in punishment for an offence of which a female voter shall have been convicted, or detention in an institution for the insane or feeble minded as being of unsound mind, or a decision by the competent authority that such a person is of unsound mind and unfit to conduct her affairs, shall be deemed sufficient ground to disqualify the said female voter during the period over which such incarceration, detention or decision shall be effective, not excepting periods of parole or remitted sentence other than total suspension of sentence, and for a further period of twelve calendar months thereafter, or such period as may from time to time be prescribed.

(5) The names of female voters qualified and eligible to cast ballots in any election shall be placed upon the general list of electors and in the event of omission it shall be incumbent upon the voter to produce evidence of a satisfactory character as to her qualifications if called upon to do so. When a new female voter is registered such evidence shall always be produced.

A HUMAN CENTIPEDE.

An Irish housekeeper was showing to some visitors the family portraits in the picture gallery.

"That officer there in uniform," she said, "was the great-great- grandfather of the present owner of this property. He was as brave as a lion, but one of the most unfortunate of men. He never fought a battle in which he did not have a leg or arm carried away."

Then she added proudly—"He took part in twenty-four engagements."—Tit-Bits.

"Your answer," said one of our map-making profs to a b. p. r. r., "reminds me of Quebec."

"Why sir," the poor b. p. r. r. asked.

"Because it is founded upon such a tall story."

McGILL JUNIORS LOSE TO M.A.A.A.

Only Four Of Regular Team Turned Out.

It was to the defeat of the McGill Juniors Saturday night, at the Central "Y," that all their players did not turn up for the basketball game against the M.A.A.A. Juniors. Four of the regular players and an extra man, a McGill spectator, made up the team. The M.A.A.A. won with a score of 30-10.

The line-up was as follows:

McGill		M.A.A.A.
Turpel	Centre	Hartney
Mendelsohn	Forward	Tool
Swartzman	Forward	Dobson
Powell	Defence	Glickman
Whitmore	Defence	Wilson

overtime period. A Blue and White man coming down the ice collided with Heney, who was forced to withdraw from the game. Examination showed that his lower teeth had been displaced, one of the uppers broken, and that he suffered a longitudinal fracture of the jaw.

First Period.

McGill started off well, and played pretty combination close up to the Varsity goals. McIntyre, of the Blue and White, kicked the puck into the McGill nets, but was called back for the offside. Olsen scored the first goal of the game on a shot from the side, making the score—Varsity 1, McGill 0.

The McGill sextette showed signs of some good combination at this stage, but were unable to score. Heney made one of his sensational rushes, shot from outside the defence and followed up for the rebound. Langtry saved the situation for his beam. Olson was penalized for bodying. The Toronto team were setting the pace and were checking well. McIntyre and Wright, carried the puck up the ice and inside the defence, and the latter scored on a pass from the former. Clarke had no chance to stop this one.

Olson scored the third tally by going through the defence and drawing Clarke out of the nets.

Varsity 3, McGill 0.

Second Period.

The McGill team showed much better form in this period, and the defence changed their tactics. Anderson was checking well. Ted Behan several times got through the Varsity defence, but Langtry stopped his shots. The Toronto team were fast, but their shooting and combination were poor. Heney was time and again getting away to rushes, but Langtry was successful in stopping the shots. During a mixup in front of the Varsity nets, Behan poked in the rubber. A controversy arose as to whether this had gone in or not, but the goal was awarded to McGill and the goal umpire changed. Clarke was called upon to stop many shots, and played a good game. A short time later Behan scored his second on a shot from the side which rolled off Langtry's pads.

Olson, coming down the side, collided with Heney and somersaulted through the air. He landed hard, and had to be carried off the ice. His injury was not serious. Heney hurt his shoulder in the collision, but gamely resumed play after a few minutes.

Score—Varsity 3, McGill 2.

Third Period.

Olson reappeared on the Toronto line-up. McGill forced the play, and "Boo" Anderson, after a minute and a half had passed, brought the puck from behind the Varsity net and poked it in, tying the score. This was a pretty piece of work. Thirty seconds later he put McGill in the lead. Cully and Behan were penalized, leaving four Red and White players against the entire Varsity sextette. "Boo" Anderson played a wonderful game at this juncture and by his checking did much to keep the play away from the McGill goals. Clarke was called upon to stop many difficult shots. Through the good work of the four men on the ice, the Blue and White were unable to score, and Behan and Cully returned with the score still in favor of the Montreal team. Heney was put off for tripping. Earl Anderson did some very effective checking. Though a man short, McGill forced the play, and Langtry was called upon to stop many difficult shots. Gouinlock got through the defence, and on a pass from McIntyre scored, giving Clarke no chance to stop. This made the score four all, with eight minutes to go.

The excitement was terrific. The trousands of Toronto supporters shouted themselves hoarse, and the McGill basketball team and the few other Red and White fans could be heard at intervals. Langtry was called upon to stop many shots, and was successful in stopping one from Heney, who had broken through the defence. Behan's poke check broke up many rushes. The period ended with the score tied.

Score—Varsity 4, McGill 4.

... ... First Overtime Period. ... ...

Varsity had a little the edge of the play, but their poor shooting and Clarke's good work kept down the score. Behan was given a penalty, but Varsity was unable to tally. End to end rushes were featured by both sides.

WEEK-END WINTER SPORTS CONTINUE

Students Participate In Skating and Snow-Shoeing.

Wee-end at Macdonald is not so bad even though a great many of the usual attractions about college have been discontinued. Saturday snowshoes were at a premium, everyone who could manage to obtain a pair were planning on trips from mid-week until the last minute. Besides numerous small parties there were several good sized parties of boys and girls. Those who were fortunate enough to be able to participate in this form of sport yesterday reported a great time and most favorable conditions. Only one accident was repodted, that in which one of the men accidentally took a rather chilly and unexpected plunge into the icy St. Lawrence.

Fortunately help was near at hand and at no time did the situation appear dangerous. No evil effects of course are hoped for.

Skating was again at its prime as a sole free night diversion. The operations began early and were carried well along into the night—in fact up till 9.30 o'clock. Not as good a crowd was out as the Leap Year feature did, however, this was likely due to many tired and aching muscles resulting from the snow tramps earlier in the day. Ice was in good condition, but showed some tendency to chipping in spots. Toward the latter part of the period a good old-fashioned snow ball battle, with the belligerents mounted upon skates as studs, was staged. This finally deteriorated into a more or less of a melee, which brought the day's activities to a close.

Yesterday was another one of those ideal days in which to get all of the good, healthy and invigorating air the M.D.'s tell us is so necessary in combatting the "flu". Snow tramping, and even hiking into the country was very much in order.

Regular baseball practice in Gym at 4.30 p.m.

HE KISSED THREE GIRLS.

The first one exclaimed: "Do you realize what you have done?"

He had a conference with her family and settled it quietly and generously.

The second one wept: "Do you realize what we have done!"

He dissuaded her from cutting her throat and promised never to speak of hte affair to anyone.

But the third one—

The one with the soft white arms,

Whose mouth was round and red and warm—

She trembled against his shoulder:

"Do you realize what you have made me do—what you have made me want ——"

He married her.

"Boo" Anderson was penalized, but the five McGill men held the Toronto sextette scoreless.

Score—Varsity 4, McGill 4.

Second Overtime Period.

It was at this stage of the game that Heney received the injury referred to above. His absence was felt by the McGill team, although Earl Anderson was very effective in checking and clearing. Ted Behan, on a pass from Anderson, drew out Langtry and broke the tie. Behan's checking was keeping the play away from the McGill defence. Behan and Anderson were penalized, and Varsity was enabled during their absence to again tie the score when Gouinlock sagged the nets.

Score—Varsity 5, McGill 5.

Third Overtime Period.

After two minutes' play, Olson put the Blue and White in the lead. Here again the crowds went mad, and on a few occasions Lou Marsh's bell could not be heard. McGill was playing well and were shooting from all corners. Dineen tied the score for the fourth time. Earl Anderson's checking was good. Wright put Toronto in the lead and scored the winning goal two minutes before time was called. Olson drew Clarke out of the nets, but missed the shot.

Final score—Varsity 7, McGill 6.

And finally, the teams and summary:

Clarke	Goal	Langtry
Heney	Defence	Ramsay
Cully	Defence	McIntyre

SPANIARDS ARE FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASTS

"Balompie," Otherwise Football, Is Very Popular In Spain.

LARGE ATTENDANCES.

All Sports Being Revived—New Ones Coming In.

This winter season there are signs that games will be more popular than ever in Spain, and a good beginning has been made. There are three main forms of outdoor sport that are practised now. One of them is golf. The play continues evenly on the Madrid courses, and there are occasional competitions. Golf, however, does not closely occupy the public attention in the winter. The other two are pedestrianism and association football. At present the interest taken in various aeroplane affairs are very keen. One hears again in many places the proposal that it is time Spain took to herself public or semi-public swimming baths, so that in winter there would be a fine sort of sport available in the middle of cities and conducted in evenings when every body could take part in or watch swimming races and water polo. Probably something in this direction will be done at the great centres in the course of the next year or two.

The football ("balompie") season has begun with emphasis. Some winters have gone by since the kind of football that is played in Britain under the laws of the football association was introduces into Spain, and the game immediately seized the fancy of the young athletes.

The early matches this season in different parts of the country have drawn large attendances of spectators and have been well contested, the opinion of those who know something about the game being that an appreciable improvement has been made over the starts of other seasons, and this has been specially noticable in the condition of the players who seem to have trained more and so made a more effective start.

Moreover, the opening of the season in Madrid was of a very remarkable character. The cry is going up everywhere that Spain and Portugal should be more and more friendly and that with close co-operation they should do better for themselves in every way. Hitherto there has been no sort of association between the two peoples in sport, but this season was opened with a match at Madrid between the Madrid Football Club and the "Benfica" team, as it is called, from Lisbon. The Portuguese took part in two matches against the Madrid players, and showed unexpectedly good form; in fact, they were the equals of the home side, who had expected a couple of easy victories. They were fast on the ball, and showed unmistakably good tactics and combination, the passing of their forwards being at times excellent. The Madrid side, which consisted of Hernandez, Manzanedo, Peris, Escalera, Rustito, Maguiro, de Miguel, Bernabeu, Victor, Gonzalez, and Sansinenea, won the first match, but the Portuguese were at their best in the second and won by 2 goals to 1.

In the matter of pedestrianism, particularly cross-country running, which for long past has been participated in with zest by the Castilian youth, a good beginning to the season has been made by the Castilian Athletic Federation. A cross-country race of about six kilometers has been held for the Copa Marron, entries being restricted to members of the association. There were 17 enties, a condition being that they had not competed in such a race before, or, if they had, that they hod not finished in the first six. The winner was J. Serrano, who covered the course in 26m. 48 2-5s. The second man in was Francisco de los Infantes, and the third Adolfo Martinez, the fourth Antorio Egido, the fifth Manuel Marron, and the sixth Alejandro Gutierrez.

JUNIORS BEAT MELVILLE SIX IN PLAY-OFF

Earn Right To Enter Finals By 3—2 Victory.

CLOSE CHECKING.

May Go To Toronto To Play For National Championship.

The McGill Juniors won their right to play Loyola for the championship by defeating Melville 3—2 on Saturday afternoon. In the event of Loyola being downed, the Red and White team will go to Toronto to play for the National Championship.

The game was fairly fast with the checking close at all time. Our men worked hard, and it was owing to their excellent back-checking that we won. Of the forwards Ploy and Gray were the stars. The defenec played a good game, effectually breaking up the Melville rushes. Special mention should be made of the goaler, Moran, who played with the Juniors for the first time, and who aided the team considerably.

Melville scored the only goal of the first period on a long, fluky shot from centre ice, making the Red and White aggregation play an uphill game from the start.

In the second period McGill tied the score, making it 1—1.

Early in the third period McGill took the lead making it 2—1. However the Melville team rallied and evened the count, thus making the issued doubtful again. IS A POLITICAL SCHEME AFOOT?

Dame Rumor Mentions Alleged Move Of Rural Member.

Reports are in circulation at present which would seem to indicate that the farmer politicinas of Canada are concentrating their immediate efforts on our local Parliament. Nothing definite could be obtained by our reporters but certain mysterious parties have been seen in consultation with our unique representative of the agrarian populace, Mr. Whiffletree of Law Umpteen. It is rumored that as a result of their counsels the latter has adopted as his slogan "Initiation, Rush or End 'Em and R.V. Call," and by this he hopes to stampede the blase "city fellers" at the next sitting.

We are further in possession of a rumor that Mr. Whiffletree, having driven the old-line parties out of power hopes to establish a benevolent autocracy with himself in the role of autocrat and his esteemed parent acting as Lord High Executioner. Under his rule the Rooters' Club would be fused with his personal bodyguard and the terpischoreal experts of the former organization would dance for the sole delectation of the potentate and his trusty henchmen from the wilds of County Bruce and Athabasca Landing. We await with interest the first official pronunciamento of the new group.

McGILL APPLY WHITE-WASH TO VARSITY TEAM

few isolated occasions that the Blue and White were able to get within shooting distance of the McGill goal.

All the Red and White team played agood game. Fisk and Parsons were especially brilliant, and between them they counted five goals. Parsons always played close up to the opposing goal, ready to smash in the ball on a rebound, while Fisk, who was the fastest man in the tank, was always able to beat out the visitors for possion of the ball.

Toronto won the toss, and took the deep end of the tank to start off with. Right after the beginning of the game, Fisk secured the ball and had the first shot, which went wild. Parsons narrowly missed scoring, and Fisk got in several shots that Bell managed to stop. At this point, the first goal of the game was scored for McGill, when the Varsity goalkeeper, in attempting to clear, brought the ball in under his own nets. Almost immediately afterwards, Les Parsons counted another for McGill, scoring from close in to the nets. The eRd and White were doing all the attacking, and the play was kept well in Varsity territory. Fisk passed to Parsons, who was right in front of the goal, and the latter made it 3-0. At this point, the teams changed ends, and the visitors seemed to liven up. Walters was called on to stop his first shot of the game. During the remainder of the period, the Red and White continued to force the pace, and it was only the good defensive work on the part of their opponents that prevented any more points from being counted before half time was called.

The third quarter started with McGill again at the shallow end. The home team started with a rush, and Bell stopped several hot shots, while Winters notched the first goal of the period, scoring on a pass from Fisk. Right afterwards, on an individual piece of work, Fisk slemmed a hard one into the corner of the net, making it 5-0. Winters brought the ball right up the tank, and passed to Fisk, who scored.

For a short time Varsity managed to carry the play into the McGill end of the tank, but finally Wiggs relieved, and Fisk and Parsons brought the ball right up by some beautiful combination workwork, with the result that the former beat out Bell. The score now stood at 7-0. Just before the end of the period, a Varsity forward managed to elude the opposing defence, but Walters was equal to the occasion, saving in spectacular style.

With an overwhelming lead in their favor, the Red and White slackened up considerably in the last quarter, and although they had the better of the play, Varsity succeeded in holding down their faster opponents for the rest of the game, so that the final whistle blew with McGill victorious by the score of 7 to 0.

The line-up:

were evenly matched, but McGill had the edge on M.A.A.A. in condition, and this superiority was quite evident in the last period.

Both of the M.A.A.A. goals were scored from long shots outside the defence. Timmins had bad luck both times. M.A.A.A.'s last goal was especially lucky, for it was shot from near mid-ice.

Flanagan played a fast game on the forward line. His speed and stick-handling were features of the afternoon.

McLaughlin and Gallery combined with Flanagan for some good combination, and all three checked back consistently. Kelly was a tower of strength on the defence, and made several spectacular rushes. Davis played a strong game and did some heavy checking.

Rowlands played well for the M. A. A. A. He was fast and handled his stick cleverly. Jaques was a husky defence man, and pulled off some good rushes. Carroll, in goals, stopped some hot ones, and saved neatly from a number of scrimmages in front of the nets.

First Period.

The period started with both teams making several individual end-to-end rushes. Flanagan carried the puck the length of the ice, but lost it at the M.A.A.A. defence. Both sides checked consistently. Gallery tried a long shot, but Carroll saved. Jaques secured the puck in front of his goals, rushed, and scored from a long shot outside the defence that barely found a corner of the nets. M.A.A.A. attacked, but Timmins saved cleanly. McLaughlin was penalized for body-checking. Flanagan rushed, and was followed by Gallery. Neither man had a chance to score, for they had no one supporting them. Fowler replaced Flanagan. Gallery tried another rush, but could not score. Kelly and Gallery showed some combination, but the M.A.A.A. defence broke it up. Flanagan came on again. The period closed with the score 1-0 for M.A.A.A.

Second Period.

The second period opened with McGill still playing no combination. Carter, of the M.A.A.A., replaced Jaques on defence. Rowlands came on in place of Spence, and, trying a long shot from near centre ice, scored. Lyall relieved McLaughlin. Kelly and Gallery pulled off a pretty piece of combination, but failed to count. McLaughlin came on again. He carried the rubber down the wing, passed to Kelly at centre, and he slammed it past Carroll for McGill's first score. This goal was a great incentive to McGill, and then and there they became a different team and played M.A.A.A. off their feet. Lyall replaced Gallery. He gave a pretty exhibition of stick-handling, and carried the puck to the M.A.A.A. goal, but could not score. Gallery relieved McLaughlin. McGill forwards attacked Carroll, but he made a lucky save. Carter, of M.A.A.A., relieved Jaques. M.A.A.A. played a strong defensive game for the remainder of the period, and McGill was unable to even up the score. The period ended 2-1 for M.A.A.A.

Third Period.

Flanagan, Kelly, then Flanagan again, rushed, but were unable to tally. An M.A.A.A. forward broke through. Lyall body-checked him heavily, and was penalized. The play was kept in the vicinity of the M.A.A.A. goal, and Rowlands was put off for rough work. McGill skated rings around M.A.A.A. at this period, and Flanagan, receiving the puck from Davis, skilfully eluded the M.A.A.A. defence and beat out Carroll with a wicked shot. M.A.A.A. tried hard to play up to McGill, but the college boys played faster and faster, and gave them no chance. Timmins saved a long shot neatly. McGill played smooth combination, but had hard luck in shooting, and Carroll made some good saves. Gallery and Flanagan fooled M.A.A.A. with their tricky combination, a scrimmage in front of M.A.A.A. goal followed, and Gallery batted the rubber past Carroll for the winning score. McGill then played a three man defence, and held M.A.A.A. easily for the remainder of the game.

The line-up was as follows:

M.A.A.A.		McGill
Carroll	Goal	Timmins
Murray	Defence	Kelly
Jaques	Defence	Davis
Wieland	Left Wing	Gallery
Rowlands	Right Wing	Flanagan
Buchanan	Centre	McLaughlin
Spence	Sub.	Fowler
Carter	Sub.	Lyall

SOME CHANGES MADE BY THE RUGBY UNION

Important Amendments To Interference Rules.

SETTLES DISPUTES.

Substitutes May Be Sent On At Any Time.

There was a certain amount of confusion during the football season last autumn with regard to interference. All this has now been definitely settled as several changes in the playing rules were decided on at a recent meeting of the Rules Commission of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union. To settle all argument as to illegal plays and offside rule was more clearly defined at the meeting and in future offside interference will be permitted on the line of scrimmage for a distance of four yards. This will permit the opening of holes in the opposing line to make bucking possible.

The scrimmage definition decided on at the meeting of intercollegiate referees last autumn was adopted and will stand next season as last. The definition of a scrimmage is an imaginary line parallel to the goal line across the field and through the centre of the spot on which the ball is to be put into play. Any player who has any part of his body within a yard of the imaginary line shall be considered on the line of scrimmage.

In future a try secured by the ball being carried over the line shall count five points while a try secured by a fumble will count only three points. This rule was decided on with a view to encouraging more running plays. A try secured from an onside kick will also count five points unless one of the defending side touches the ball before it comes over the line.

The penalty rule played under last season, when a team committed an offside play within its own quarter will apply to the whole field this season. For offside play on the line of scrimmage the offending side shall go back fifteen yards, but shall retain possession of the ball, except on the third down when the ball shall be given to the opposing side

It was decided to allow substitutes at any time during the game, the substitute to report to the official in charge when going on the field. This will do away with the players leaving the field for minor accidents to allow substitutes to go on.

It was decided that the field of play must be marked out in lines five yards apart to enable the officials to enforce the offside interference rules during a scrimmage.

The limit placed on the number of substitutes to be carried by a team was four men. This will make a total of eighteen men in uniform.

A referee can under the revised rules change any official except his umpire at any time during a game and that the head linesman shall assist in watching offside play during the scrimmage.

It has been suggested by the Rules Commission that each University name a number of men for the board of officials and from that number the commission select the referee for the season. It was also suggested to vote each official an honorarium of $25 for each match exclusive of his travelling expenses. These rules will likely be adopted by the Canadian Rugby Union so that a uniform code will be used next saeson by all governing bodies.

CALIFORNIA DATES.

Date palms grown from shoots that were imported from Algiers are now abundantly bearing fruit in the Coachella Valley of California. In its growing, the date crop is indeed picturesque. A sa staple, however, it is hardly so well known in America as in the Levant, where for untold centuries it has been almost as important as wheat. Though it would doubtless take more than numerous dates and olives to make a Garden of Eden, still these are supposed to have been factors in that delectable condition of things. In mid-winter it is pleasant to think of such a crop as this growing near a town called Mecca in the United States.

VICTORIAS ENTER THE CITY FINALS

Surprise St. Anns and Win By 5—2.

In the first of the semi-finals of the City League, which took place at the Arena on Saturday evening, Victorias sprung a surprise on the talent by taking the long end of a 5-2 score against St. Ann's. While the teams were evenly matched as regards speed, Vics showed the better combination, and this was sufficient to swing the result in their favor. Slater, of the winners, gave a sparkling display, and was ably seconded by Dawes, who secured four of his team's goals. Magee also occupied the limelight on several occasions, and brought the fans to their feet with his goal to goal rushes.

The St. Ann's forward line wass off color, Davins being the only member to play up to his usual form, and this, coupled with the five-man defence employed by Vics, tells the story.

The line-up was as follows:

St. Ann's		Victorias
Proudfoot	Goal	Law
Anderson	Defence	Darling
Spriggins	Defence	Magee
Davins	Forward	Slater
Campbell	Forward	Dawes
Arnold	Forward	Watt
Savard	Sub.	Nichol
